

GENERAL BEHAVIOR

Students are expected to always maintain proper relationships with their classmates and school personnel, and to be cooperative, orderly, and attentive to their work. Those students who violate school rules, or who exhibit conduct inconsistent with good behavior or common decency, will be subject to disciplinary procedures.

Patchogue-Medford High School must provide each student with the maximum opportunity to acquire an education. Students do not have the right to interfere with this opportunity by their actions, poor manners, or lack of consideration. All rules and regulations are instituted and enforced with this thought in mind.
